

Kentucky's Brookhill shaping the future

*Farm near Lexington stands five-time
World's Champion
CH Harlem Town.*

Top: Brookhill Farm

*Bottom: He Be Jammin' BH
(CH Harlem Town x She Be Jammin')*

Brookhill is located six miles from the center of Lexington and four miles from the Bluegrass Airport where the farm's 100 acres are surrounded by major Thoroughbred farms.

This quiet, protected and beautiful setting is perfect for the nurturing of young Saddlebred athletes. The Maury silt loam soil with its underlying limestone is the type of soil that has made the Bluegrass Region of Kentucky the horse capitol of the world.

Brookhill is home to a small select broodmare band and five-time World's Champion CH Harlem Town. With an incomparable pedigree of World's Champion performance champions, he is the son of two five-time World's Champions.

With just 49 registered foals, he is continuing his World's Champion achievements, siring World's Champion Harlem Santa Fe, two-time World's Champion and UPHA Horse of the Year Ninety-Eight Degrees, two-time World's Champion Kool Tyme BH, World's Champion Harlem's Friendly Conversation, Reserve World's Champion Prince Town BH, and Harlem's Town Scandal.

At the 2002 UPHA/American Royal National Championship Show, his get He Be Jammin' BH won the Fine Harness Two-Year-Old class and A Day On The Town BH won the Five-Gaited, Two-Year-Old class.

The Brookhill horses are trained by Rob and Jackie Tanner.

The farm staff provides hands-on attention and constant supervision. Our proximity and close relationship with world-renowned Hagyard-Davidson-McGee Veterinary Clinic insures that the horses receive excellent medical attention.

Brookhill welcomes George Haydon as consultant/advisor in the ongoing growth and development of Brookhill into a boutique stallion station and broodmare facility.

We invite your inquiries regarding breeding, broodmare care and foaling, as well as your consideration of Brookhill's quality show prospects.

Contact: Brookhill, 600 South Yarnallton Pike, Lexington, KY 40510. Phone (859) 253-8919. Cell: (310) 880-6481. E-mail: brookhillto@aol.com.

