

Circle C Saddlebreds breeding & selling top pintos in Texas

Sharyn Chambers breeds all types of horses, pleasure, stock and saddle types. She fell in love with Saddlebreds five years ago when she visited the American Saddlebred Museum in Lexington, KY, and decided to incorporate the breed into her development of the Pinto coloration and quality.

Now she's deep in the Saddlebred business, standing three pinto Saddlebred stallions and breeding both purebred and Arabian mares.

The Chambers' Circle C farm is located 30 miles outside Ft. Worth, TX. Sales in 2003 have been brisk, Sharyn says, with buyers finding her horses by word of mouth and through the website www.circlecsaddlebreds.com.

Her show horses have done well, too, four already becoming World Champions at the annual Pinto World Show in Tulsa, OK. An amateur exhibitor herself, her halter horses are trained by Robert Macom, Luther, OK. Bob Catlin, Royale Training Center, Dallas trains and shows her harness and saddle horses.

Royal Jewels), a 15.3-hand, liver-and-chestnut pinto. Five-gaited, gentle yet spirited. His foals will be shown in 2004 at Pinto World, TX State Fair and the American Royal, to name a few. Watch for Prayer Warrior (Colortown x Jama Party).

- Anointed (Habenero Regal Affair x Winter White Chocolate), a homozygous black-and-white stallion who will mature to over 16 hands.

Circle C horses are bred, raised and shown all "For the Glory of the Lord." Special programs are offered to those wishing to take one of the foals or breeding a mare if the intention is to use the foal in the Lord's work.
